

Figure S1: Lesions manifest prominently in cases of high infection with Tanqua siamensis sp. nov. The small, hardened spots (caseous necrosis) are dispersed throughout the internal wall of the snake's stomach (black arrows).