Appendix B: April 2019 Qualtrics Study Measure Coding

Scaling of all variables:

All variables are rescaled from 0 to 1.

Authoritarianism: This is an index of respondents' responses to the four authoritarianism items: respect for elders, good manners, obedience, and well-behaved items. The authoritarian responses correspond with higher values.

Importance of religion to life: Higher importance corresponds to higher values.

In-group shame: Higher shame corresponds to higher values.

In-group anger: Higher anger corresponds to higher values.

Identity: Stronger identity corresponds to higher values.

Closeness to Blacks: More closeness corresponds to higher values.

Endorsement of negative stereotypes: This is an index of respondents' responses to the four negative stereotypes questions: hardworking, intelligence, nonviolence, and contributes to positive image. Endorsing negative stereotypes correspond to higher values.

Linked fate: Higher linked fate corresponds to higher values.

Perceptions of discrimination: Believing there to be more discrimination corresponds to higher values.

Respectability: Endorsing respectability politics corresponds to higher values.

Sagging pants: Supporting the sagging pants corresponds to higher values.

Houston dress code: Supporting the dress code corresponds to higher values.

Opposition to Black Lives Matter: Opposing Black Lives Matter corresponds to higher values.

Supporting the Three Strikes Law: Supporting the Three Strikes Law corresponds to higher values.

Supporting harsher drug law: Supporting harsher drug laws corresponds to higher values.

Justified policing shootings: Believing more police shootings are justified corresponds to higher values.

Supporting decreasing welfare spending: Supporting decreasing welfare spending corresponds to higher values.

Believing work requirements are important: Believing work requirements are important corresponds to higher values.

Supporting jailing parents of truants: Supporting jailing parents of truants corresponds to higher values.
