

Supplementary Figure 2 - Network of transcripts from the Segman study confirming the role of estrogen in postpartum depression:

Regulatory network of transcripts involved in postpartum depression and /or estrogen signaling found by Segman and colleagues (Segman et al., 2005). Transcripts identified in the Segman study are indicated in green and transcripts from the literature search are indicated in grey. Arrows indicate activating interconnections; blocks denote inhibitory activities and lines indicate physical interactions.