Ordnance Survey grid references used for the locations of all the known or possible forts, fortlets, enclosures, expansions and towers along the Antonine Wall. With the exception of the possible fortlet at Laurieston, all the locations have been extracted by measuring from the RCAHMS Map of the Antonine Wall. For the forts, since they occupy substantial areas, the grid references have only been quoted to 3 digits, and the locations selected have been approximately at the centres of their areas. With all the other installations, the grid references have been quoted to 4 digits. For the fortlets, the grid reference of the north gate (or its estimated position) has generally been chosen, while all the other installations are sufficiently small for grid references to four digits to define their locations precisely.
