CON-QUEST (COroNavirus QUESTionnaire): Contact questionnaire on patterns and behaviour in University of Bristol staff and students during the COVID-19 pandemic

Help control COVID-19 Thank you for taking this survey. In doing so, you will be contributing to research into how COVID-19 spreads. Social contact patterns are important for understanding the spread of COVID-19. We are conducting this survey at the University of Bristol to measure social contact patterns in a university setting, as well as other factors important in the transmission of COVID-19. Instructions You must be over 18 years of age to complete this survey and a member of staff or a student at the University of Bristol. The survey is anonymous, and you can opt out at any time by closing the survey. We are unable to remove submitted answers due to the anonymous nature of the survey. Therefore, submission of pages within the survey will be taken as consent that you are happy for the data you have provided to be used for research purposes. Your anonymised data from this questionnaire will be made available publicly through a data repository and through publications to aid with the COVID-19 public health response. As lockdown eases, we will capture how contact patterns and behaviour change over time. If you are happy to be contacted again, you will be able to provide an email address at the end of the survey. Your email address will only be stored for the sole purpose of contacting you about completing this survey in the future. Your email address will not be linked to the information you submit in the questionnaire - your data will remain anonymous. Your information will be kept in accordance with the Data Protection Act. Thank you for completing CON-QUEST! If you have any questions about the survey, then please contact us on: uob-conquest-project@bristol.ac.uk

You can read about the survey and find latest results on the CONQUEST website: bris.ac.uk/conquest This survey is funded by the Elizabeth Blackwell Institute for Health Research at the University of Bristol.
