

Supplemental Figure. Parasternal short axis echocardiographic views demonstrate (a) anomalous left coronary artery connection to the main pulmonary artery with left-to-right flow (arrow), (b) and (c) dilation of the proximal right (single arrow) and left (double arrow) coronary systems, and (d) prominent collateral flow within the interventricular septum (arrows).