

Herbert Wolfe, PhD, Director, Policy and Strategic Planning, Office of the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

Dr. Wolfe serves as the Director for Policy and Strategic Planning in the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response (ASPR), U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, a position he has held since June 2013. Dr. Wolfe is responsible for directing and coordinating policy and strategic planning for the ASPR, including such activities as the National Health Security Strategy, Presidential Policy Directive-8, the Department's H1N1 Improvement Plan and multiple mandated activities from the Pandemic and All-Hazards Preparedness reauthorization Act (PAHPRA) of 2013. From July 2006 until June 2013, Dr. Wolfe served in several key leadership roles for the U.S. Navy Surgeon General to include: Supervisory Emergency Management Officer (2006-2007), Director for Emergency Preparedness and Contingency Support (2007-2009) and Special Assistant to the Deputy Surgeon General for Homeland Defense and Weapons of Mass Destruction (2010-2013). During his tenure at the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Dr. Wolfe served as the principle advisor and executive for Navy Medicine's support to Operations IRAQI and ENDURING FREEDOM, Operation TOMODACHI, the H1N1 Pandemic as well as the oversight of Navy Medicine's emergency preparedness and response programs, supporting U.S. Navy and U.S. Marine Corps forces, personnel and beneficiaries world-wide. Dr. Wolfe also served on a Joint Duty Assignment with the Central Intelligence Agency as a Technical Intelligence Officer from 2009-2010.

Dr. Wolfe holds his Doctorate (Biodefense) from George Mason University in Fairfax, VA. Dr. Wolfe obtained his Bachelor's of Arts degree (Biology) from Lycoming College in 1993 and his Master's of Science degree (Health Science/Physician Assistant Studies) from Lock Haven University in 1999. Dr. Wolfe completed his clinical residency in Family Medicine at the Claremore Indian Hospital in Claremore, OK.