

Mary Casey-Lockyer MHS, BSN, RN, CCRN, Disaster Health Services Program Development, American Red Cross

Mary Casey-Lockyer is currently the Senior Associate for Disaster Health Services at the national headquarters of the American Red Cross. For a little over 3 years, she has fulfilled the role of lead for program development for Disaster Health Services at national headquarters. She is, also currently, a board member of the Roundtable for Critical Care Policy and Rx Response. Prior to accepting the Disaster Health Services role for the American Red Cross, Mary was an active volunteer with the American Red Cross and the Palatine, IL Medical Reserve Corps. As a Disaster Health Services manager/chief with the Red Cross, she has been on eleven national deployments, most recently to the Hurricane Sandy response in New York. From 2002-2011, Mary was the Emergency Preparedness and Response Coordinator for Northwest Community Hospital located in Arlington Heights IL. She was involved in emergency planning activities at the local, regional, state and federal levels. Mary earned a Masters in Homeland Security for Public Health Preparedness in 2010 from the Pennsylvania State University Hershey School of Medicine and holds a Bachelors of Science in Nursing from DePaul University. Her nursing career includes critical care nursing and hospital wide administrative supervision.